FOREWORD

The HATTER staff presents to you the 1941 annual of John B. Stetson University. For 57 years this institution has stood for high quality scholarship, achievement, and moral conduct. The 1941 HATTER has been constructed to show the progress made in the development of the individual and in the institution in accordance with the general aims and objectives of the University.

DEDICATION

In appreciation of all she has done in behalf of the University and of each student, in gratitude for the help and inspiration she has given to this small world during the past four years, we, the HATTER staff of 1941, dedicate this book to

The Dean of Women

Lola B. McCollough

Situated in Central Florida, twenty-five miles from the Atlantic Ocean, Stetson University stands, stalwart in her ideals, strong in her conviction that the individual comes first. That this conviction may be carried out fully, the enrollment of the University is limited to eight hundred. The excellent faculty leaders encourage, and guide the development of each student, thus strengthening the boy and girl of today into the man and woman of tomorrow.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The session 1940-1941 has been the best in Stetson's history. The great spirit of Stetson is growing. Students are taking a genuine interest in the ideals of the Institution. The student government idea is progressing. The honor system is at work. Interest in scholarship is increasing steadily. More and more Stetson is being recognized as one of the leading universities of the South. She is living up to the four words that best describe her work: scholarship, culture, Christian character. The young men and women who graduate this year will join the thousands of alumni who are occupying positions of leadership and trust throughout Florida and the nation. Thus Stetson continues to go forward.

I take this opportunity to extend greetings and best wishes to the student body and to the Stetson family everywhere.

Sincerely,

WILLIAM SIMS ALLEN

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

FOREWORD

The establishment of the School of Business at Stetson University in the spring of 1940 as a separate division of the University represents the fulfillment of one of the longstanding aims of the present administration. The difference in objective as compared with those of other departments of the College of Liberal Arts and the increasing size of the enrollment of the old Department of Business Administration makes this change a desirable one.

The present School with its two four-year programs emphasizing the need of a cultural background and the theoretical as well as the practical side of business, and economic training, is a far cry from the Business College at the University in 1897. In the early days the Business College was a department and offered, according to the catalogue of 1897, "thoroughly practical courses in Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Banking, Auditing, and Penmanship." It operated as does the commercial school of today, a student being permitted to enter at any time and to complete the course as quickly as he was able. The instruction was entirely individual and the facilities were divided into ten offices representing separate business offices in which the student was taught and practiced accounting. The University awarded a diploma but did not grant academic credit until 1907 when three hours credit was allowed for Bookkeeping and for the Shorthand course.

In 1919 an enriched course of study was offered leading to the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy in Business Administration. In 1923 one such degree was conferred.

The next major development came in 1935 when the courses of study of the department of Business were divided into two full four year programs leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and Bachelor of Science in Secretarial Science. It is out of this department that the present School of Business emerged in the expectation of continued development and with the hope that it is destined to be one of the best of the university schools of business of the South.

Sincerely,

DR. R. C. LARCOM

COLLEGE OF LAW

FOREWORD

The Stetson University College of Law is dedicated to the better administration of justice among men. To this end the law faculty is endeavoring to give careful instruction in the various branches of the law, to keep constantly before the student the high idealism of the "noble profession," and to infuse into every student a burning desire to promote justice, the true cornerstone of democracy and democratic institutions.

The Law School's purpose is to help every student find his most useful place. When a school fails to assist young men and women in fitting themselves into society so that they may most efficiently serve humanity, it is not fulfilling its solemn obligation to its students. To nurse a student along through law school when he is not qualified, is no favor to him; it is a serious injustice. Unfortunately, mass production in education has caused the curriculum in many schools to be geared to the less able students. This deprives the competent student of something to which he is entitled, and at the same time misleads the less able one.

The Stetson College of Law recognizes these obligations to the public and to the student and is striving diligently to produce lawyers who will maintain the legal profession as a "noble profession."

STETSON SCHOOL OF MUSIC

FOREWORD

When Dr. William Sims Allen, President, came to Stetson, he stated that he intended to have an outstanding music department in the University. An outstanding department soon developed, and grew to a School of Music, meeting in 1936 all requirements of the National Association of Schools of Music, the highest accrediting association for music in this country.

This year has been an active one. We have had more faculty and student recitals. Our concert course included two outstanding organizations, the United States Marine Band and the Westminster Choir. Our operetta was written, orchestrated, and performed by our students and the tours made by the Glee Clubs and band brought new honors to the organizations and to the School.

We are proud of our fine Symphony Orchestra and Little Symphony. Both organizations have given excellent concerts and the members have appeared in small ensembles.

Those of you who have attended school this year know the many other activities sponsored by the School of Music.

To the graduates of the University, we wish you success and happiness.

RETROSPECT

When I was young, and perhaps a little foolish . . . I voted . . . for forty years of retrospect . . . I thought it would be the best sort of old age pension, and yet . . . I never really dreamed it could be granted . . . and now, when by some queer quirk the bill has passed, I don't know just how to retrospect so well. I wanted to think about the wonderful, beautiful things that marked my last year at college . . . to think about each little thing maybe six or seven years . . . and yet somehow the things just won't get divided and stretch out like that . . . they all come crowding in together and then flit by fast . . . so fast that I have to reach out quickly with my mind and grasp them before they get all tangled up again in one big pattern that isn't very clear . . . just sort of youth and fun and books and moss draped trees all mixed up together . . . maybe they go by so fast like that because that's the way the year went by . . . just floated right by . . . so quickly we hardly realized that it could be gone . . .

It seems only like yesterday that Freshman Orientation Week was beginning and the quaking freshmen mullered around looking lost. It's good to look back over the year's happenings now . . . the good things seem better and the bad things don't seem so bad. Memories are wonderful things . . . Freshmen Week seemed good . . . it always seemed good . . . The campus came alive again and literally teemed with youth and brightness . . . Old students slapped each other on the backs 'til they were black and blue, and pumped each others' hands fondly while recounting fantastic tales of summer doings. Frosh talent night was about the first thing on the program, Lydia Theurer acted as master of ceremonies and it was on Friday the thirteenth . . . On Monday Dr. Allen and Mayor Hatch welcomed new and old students to Stetson, and we sang the Alma Mater for the first time to the Freshmen. Dr. Davis, the newly appointed Dean, received a rousing cheer . . . The freshmen walked a little stiffly and sat down a little gingerly for a good while . . . upper classmen wielded a mean board that year . . . Bob Barnett, Director of Publicity, and Katje flew to New York to appear on the "We, the People Hour" . . . and soon September faded into October . . . Two squadrons of planes piloted by Stetson Aviators flew to Tampa for the annual gridiron battle . . . students went wild during the closest game of the year.

The October political fervor ran high as campaign back-slappers devastated the campus, loud speakers blared forth and red hot jive put voters in the groove . . . everything was in the groove that year . . . Party leaders grinned around their gratis seegars as the results came in. Horace Bills and Julia Ann Pennington for Homecoming Mayor and Hostess. Came October 16, and every male student hied himself to the high school gym to register for the first U. S. peacetime draft . . . And fittingly enough, the famous scarlet and blue clad U. S. Marine band played two concerts in Elizabeth Hall that same day . . . November whirled in with a colorful homecoming and chrysanthemums, and the annual parade, and then Sadie Hawkins Day rose up and had to be taken care of . . . beards and pigtails flourished for weeks previous to the "Sadie Hawkins" oppy. And the bang-up hoe down in Connings "Barn" was something to hold your sides over. The faculty skipped out on the pie-eating contest, and we found most of them down stairs with the apple cider . . . On November 27 the weary freshmen won their tug-of-war with the upperclassmen and discarded their rat caps. The Stetson Reporter, under the editorship of Bob Hechner, came forth the same week with the Collegiate Digest. The Reporter got a first class rating that year . . . The Westminster Choir sang to a packed house . . . The Little Theatre production, "Stage Door" wowed capacity crowds at both performances and was acclaimed the best play ever presented . . . Flonnie Anders was superb . . . The Stetsonian was presented to the student body and Mrs. Reynolds gave the staff a banquet . . .

March breezed in with the startling announcement that Stetson had abandoned "Inter-collegiate" Athletics . . . Headlines blazed on State Papers and the students and alumni reeled with the suddenness of it . . . came calm again and six weeks tests and April . . . Dean McCollough was granted a year's leave of absence . . . elections loomed up in the distance . . . The Ladies' Auxiliary presented the school with a sun dial . . . The Press Club sponsored Stetson's first Journalism Institute . . . Politics ran rampant again and would-be voters peered through streamers and drifts of confetti for a glimpse of their favorite candidates . . . students clutched free sweetheart roses and sucked on their election seegars as the returns came in . . . Golden for president . . . Popular Gadi Lawton conducted the installation service and presided over his last student body meeting closing it with a talk that brought a lump to the throat of every senior . . . Into May with the Dexamias giving their South Sea Island fantasy party in costume . . . Commencement came and went and Dr. Allen's farewell . . . and the Alma Mater . . . I can hear it now . . . young voices lowered together "tenderly we greet thee . . . gather and bring to thee gracious salutations" . . . Then the swelling forth proudly in ringing unison . . . "Hail Alma Mater, dear" . . . Dear Alma Mater . . . historic old Stetson with its waving palm trees and tall pines . . . I'm glad I've got forty years for this . . . this retrospect.

ATHLETICS

TO OUR COACHES

Cowell, Clemons and Johnson who have faithfully worked in the past years to present us with a winning football and basketball team, we extend our sincere hope that some day they may again work with our students, trying to present Stetson with a winning team composed of gentlemen and sportsmen as well as fine athletes.

AUSTIN ROTH,
Sports Editor

FOOTBALL SWAN SONG

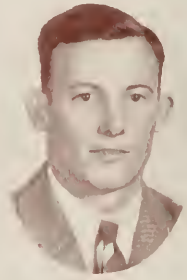

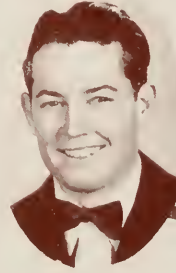

Stetson University's football team this year wasn't exactly the greatest thing in the state but you could always depend on the boys to be in there playing clean, hard football all the way.

Our Homecoming game against the Tampa Spartans showed what the boys could really do. When the alumni came back home to see them play they played a brand of ball that any follower would be proud of.

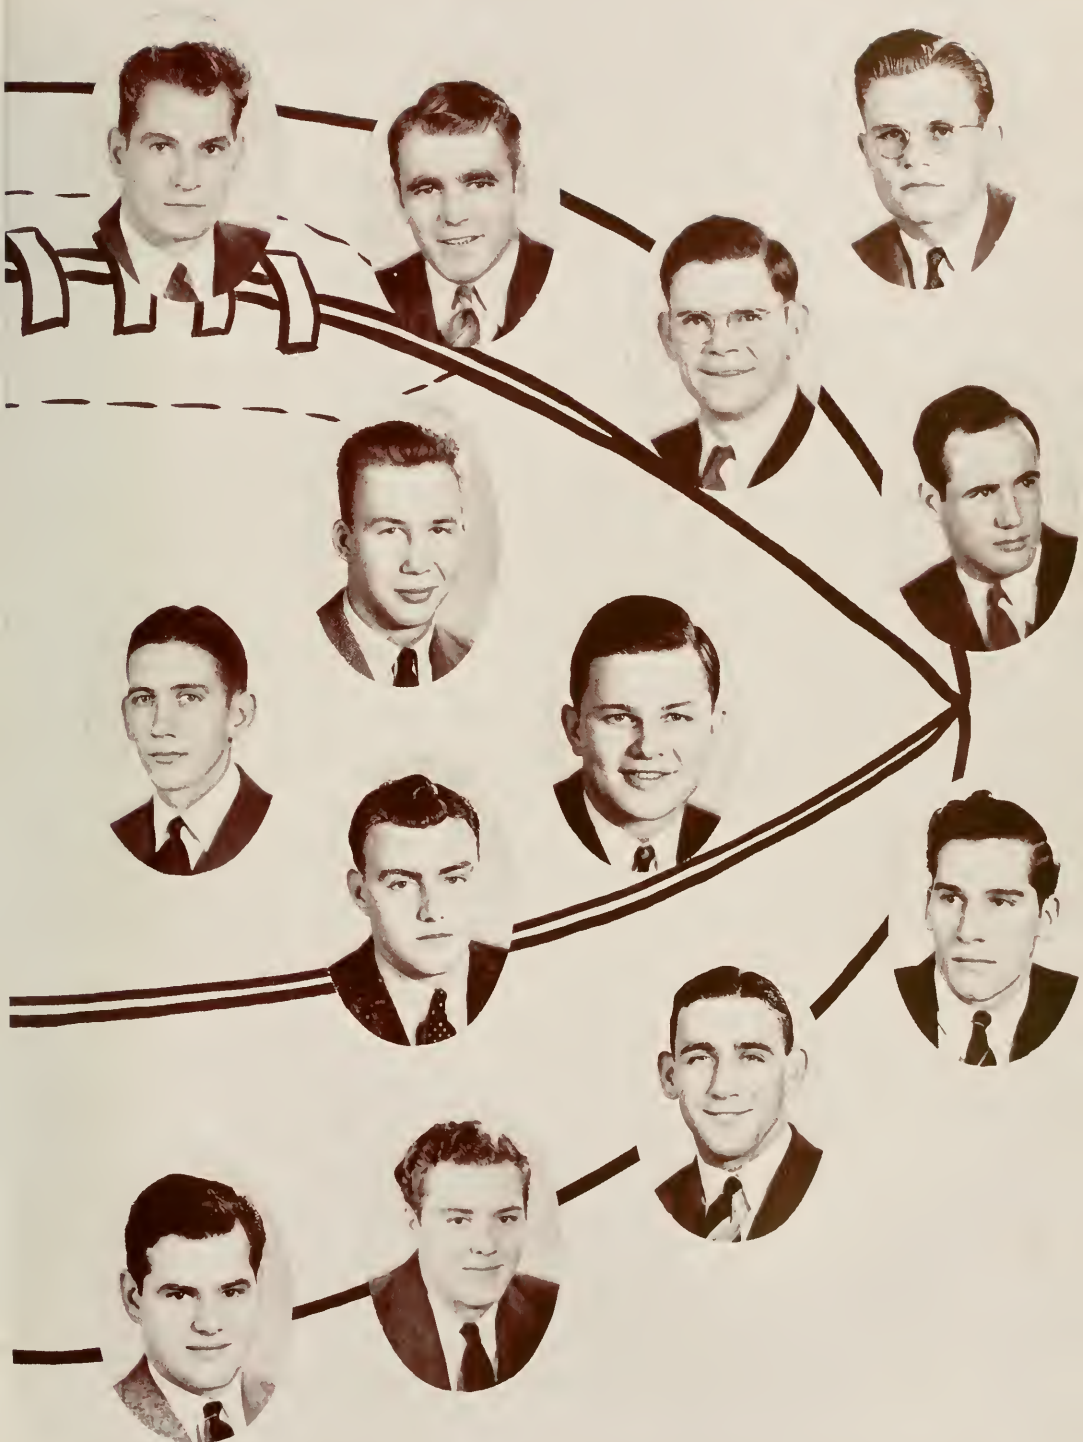

It seemed as if the boys could make plenty of ground in mid-field but they lacked the punch inside the ten-yard line. In several cases the Hatters outgained their opponent by a wide margin but ended up on the short end of the score.

Some day we hope to again present a team that will play with the fine spirit of competition that Stetson's teams have shown in the past.

On the following pages space has been reserved for the boys to autograph their pictures.

Getting away to a good start the first of the season. The Hatters continued their good work for the complete season of fourteen wins and six losses.

Under the capable direction of Coach Ben Clemons, the Big Green Team was one of the most promising teams that has represented Stetson in several years.

In Florida the Hatters were unusually brilliant in winning games from Southern, Rollins, and Miami but senior team from the University of Florida nosed the Green and White out in two games.

Elected Captain of the 1941 Hatter squad was Dewey Hawkins, a newcomer to the Stetson campus who was more at home on the basketball court than in the dormitory.

Those receiving letters were Bob Sample, Lanier Smith, Dewey Hawkins, Billy Reese, Eddie Kaleel, Frank Foltz, Carl Purtz, Jimmie Golden and Bob Barnes.

TENNIS TEAM

Stetson's greatest Tennis Team of all time rolled up a better record this year than has ever been made before.

With 16 wins and 3 defeats Stetson defeated some of the best teams in the South including, Mercer, Wofford, Furman, Erskine, Davidson, Emory and Henry, Tampa and for the first time in History the University of Florida.

Led by Captain Billy Davis the boys played steady, consistent tennis throughout the entire season and merit a world of praise for this greatest tennis year in the history of Stetson University.

"S" CLUB

This year's "S" Club represents the last group of Varsity letters to be seen around the campus of Stetson for a long time. The Varsity "S" Club represent the group of men who have given not only state but Southern teams stiff competition in the past. To the last of the "S" club we wish to say that we hope that your club will be as active in the near future as it has been in the past.

STETSON PLAYERS 1940-41 SEASON

October 12—The season was opened with a group of three one-act plays, Spreading the News, The Hour-Glass, and Utter Relaxation, directed by members of Theta Alpha Phi and employing novice players.

October 31, November 1—Moliere's School for Husbands, translated by Howard L. Bateson was presented with charm and grace for Homecoming audiences.

November 21, 23—Stage Door by Kaufman and Ferber was an admirable vehicle for a large cast of veteran and initiate actors and was distinguished as Flonnie Anders' introduction to the Stetson stage.

December 17—In the spirit of Christmas William N. Guthrie's The Lord's Prayer was presented, supplemented by a verse-speaking choir under the direction of Mrs. Paul McEntire.

February 14, 15—George Bernard Shaw's famed Pygmalion, enacted by a seasonal cast, was a highlight of the winter season.

March 6—Theta Alpha Phi presented its first dramatic revue, an original production Pardon Us, Cupid by Howard Bateson and Lydia Theurer.

March 15—The Second Annual Men's Intramural Dramatic Contest was again won by Pi Kappa Phi for their skit, Robinson Crusoe which triumphed over productions of Conrad Hall, The Ministerial Association, Delta Sigma Phi, and Sigma Nu.

March 22—In the First Women's Intramural Dramatic Contest Alpha Xi Delta received first place for "The Perfect Ending", topping Pi Beta Phi, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Dexionas, and Zeta Tau Alpha.

April 23, 24—The birthday of William Shakespeare was celebrated by the presentation of a program of purple passages from well-known plays and songs and sonnets by the verse-speaking choir, after which a bust of Shakespeare was unveiled and placed in the theatre lobby. Completing the celebration, the Roman tragedy, Coriolanus was presented.

May 16, 17—Clifford Goldsmith's comedy, What A Life provided a hilarious closing for the season.

In coordination with the class in radio speech and the Stetson Radio Series of WMFJ, Daytona Beach, the Stetson Radio Guild was formed and presented a number of radio dramas, including Boston Turnpike by Tom Watson, Jr. and Frost dramatized by Sara Ellen Mobley and Mary Lou Garrett from the story of Delight Sieg.

DEBATE

During the 1940-41 debate work was under the direction of Dr. Irving C. Stover, with Lydia Theurer serving as coach. The varsity group was composed of Vance Graham, John Lewis, Ruby Amory, and Irma French. Graham and Lewis attended the Pi Kappa Delta Province Tournament, April 2-5, at Montevallo, Alabama. Lewis took first place in extemporaneous speaking and second in oratory, while Graham was a finalist in impromptu speaking. The Stetson squad ranked third in debate, competing against leading colleges of the South. Amory and French represented Stetson at the Tournament of the Southern Association of Teachers of Speech at Birmingham April 1-5. In addition to very satisfactory work in debate, Amory took second in extemporaneous speaking and fourth in after-dinner speaking.

This year, as heretofore, Stetson opened the debate season by playing host to other colleges of the state at the Fourth Annual Florida Practise Tournament, November 15. John Lewis was adjudged the best extemporaneous speaker, and Gadi Lawton represented Stetson in the non-competitive after-dinner speaking. Debating was non-decision in order to encourage untrained speakers to participate. Among Stetson's beginning debaters who participated in this meet, at the University of Florida March 3, and in intra-squad debating through the year are: George Avent, Dekle DeLoach, Doris Hartman, Robert Henry, Harvey Klein, Sylva Landress, Forrest May, and Max Stamper.

February 5 Stetson entertained debaters from Wheaton College and engaged in a dual debate with Amory, French, Graham, and Lewis participating for Stetson. New York University debaters arrived March 7, and that afternoon Klein and Lewis debated then on the Pi Kappa Delta question. An event of their visit was the presentation of a letter of greeting from Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York City to Mayor A. C. Hatch of DeLand by Murray Gartner, manager of the N. Y. U. team. The debate season was formally closed with an Oregon Plan debate on the S. A. T. S. question over radio station W.M.F.J. April 16. Amory, Graham, Lewis and Klein were the speakers. As an extra-season special, Pi Kappa Delta sponsored an intramural debate tournament with humorous topics May 2, 3.

Pi Kappa Delta members served as hosts when representatives from the University of Florida, Florida Southern, St. Petersburg Junior College and Rollins visited the campus November 15 for the Fourth Annual Florida Practise Tournament. John Lewis distinguished himself as the outstanding extemporaneous speaker, and Gadi Lawton represented Stetson in the non competitive after-dinner speaking.

John Lewis and Vance Graham distinguished themselves as Florida Betas delegates to the Pi Kappa Delta Province Tournament at Montevallo, Alabama, April 2-5.

Pi Kappa Delta at Stetson inaugurated what is to be an annual event—intramural debate tournament for novice men and women speakers. The topics were humorous and the tournament hilarious.

The STETSON "Playboy" America's Favorite Hat

Millions of men are wearing the Stetson "Playboy". No wonder, when you consider its informal yet smart lines, its light weight and comfort.

Your hatter has the "Playboy" in new colorings . . . pleasing shades that harmonize or contrast with the rest of your apparel. Ask him to show you America's favorite hat—you'll like it.

Trade with ORLANDO LINEN & TOWEL SUPPLY CO.

Why?

Because it was the first to service Linens to Central Florida

Because it is a Florida Corporation

Because it is the only Linen Supply servicing Central Florida that is owned and operated by Floridians

Because with its affiliates it maintains one of the largest payrolls in the State

Every dollar received is spent in Florida

Anyway it is the neighborly thing to do and we guarantee to please you
